IPTV from Netvue

IPTV is the convergence of television distribution with IT data network infrastructure. IPTV has rapidly become the industry standard for TV and audio-visual distribution around buildings.

MPC bought an IPTV system from Netvue in 2008 in order to distribute live broadcast TV and in-house video content throughout their London headquarters building.

TV signals from aerial and satellite dish are converted to IPTV channels in the IPTV head-end for distribution to TV display screens and staff computer desktops throughout the company..
